

Employee Profile: Doug Wong

Role:

Workforce solutions advisor

Location:

San Ramon, California

Length of time with Planetpro:

8 years

In college, I studied:

Managerial economics

Interesting fact about me:

I'm a country music fan and I like classic cars.

Favourite thing to do as a child:

As a child, all sports: football, basketball, baseball. Due to recent injuries, I've moved onto golf and bowling to quench my competitive hunger.

In my spare time, I like to:

I'm constantly looking to try and learn new things and I'll never say no to a new adventure. Last year I picked up marathon running. I've recently learned that some of our Planetpro colleagues are into mountain climbing and deep-sea fishing. Perhaps they can teach me that next.

I love my job at Planetpro because:

Over the years, I've had the honor of providing hundreds of jobs to support companies and organizations across the globe. As a company, we don't have a shiny product; our product is our people and the relationships we build with them. My job is to not only foster these relationships but to develop new ones every day. I take pride in this responsibility and this is why I enjoy my job.

The difference between Planetpro and other firms I've worked for is:

Technology has grown tremendously. We've had the privilege of representing talent that has helped push some of this technology to the forefront. Planetpro has assisted companies - both large billion dollar ones and small startups - increase their workforce. We've been repeatedly cited by clients as the company that's "flexible and easy to work with". It's this flexibility that's allowed us to lead organizations in their growth even during the toughest of times.
